REPORT OF THE COUNCIL FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30th, 1962

THE Council has pleasure in presenting the Fifty-first Annual Report of the Society.

At the meeting on January 5th, Miss Seymour Whinyates, O.B.E., Hon. R.A.M., was elected President for the coming year, and we are deeply grateful to her for her close co-operation and valuable advice during this period.

A Memorial Service for Miss Katharine Eggar was held at St. James' Church, Piccadilly, on October 23rd, 1961. The Service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. T. S. Brewis, and the music, which had been most carefully chosen for the occasion, was beautifully given by Mr. Bruce Hylton-Stewart, the Organist, and his Choir. " Ye now are sorrowful," from the Brahms Requiem, and the Anthem " Justorum Animae," both reflected the care and artistry which had been expended upon the whole service.

After the Annual General Meeting on November 29th, 1961, Penelope Howard, winner of the Marion Scott Prize 1961, shared a recital with Arda Mandikian, and at the Christmas party on December 16th, a large company enjoyed Carol Singing and a Puppet Show.

During the Spring and Summer there have been nine fixtures. Four of our Composer members—Ruth Gipps, Cecily Lambert, Elizabeth Maconchy and Beryl Price—have had works performed, and many younger members took part in the Concerts.

The programmes included:

Five Kid songs, " I hate music " (Leonard Bernstein.)
Preludes for piano (George Gershwin.)
Sonata for clarinet and piano (Hindemith.)
Piano pieces from " Sarnia " (John Ireland.)
String Trio, Op. 6, No. 6 (Elizabeth Lutyens.)
Music for Strings (William Mathias.)
Quartet No. 7 (Shostakovitch.)
Sonata for violin and piano (William Walton.)

There were also little known arias by Liszt and Monteverdi, and finally, on July 4th, a Delius Centenary Concert, introduced by the Chairman. This concert drew a large audience and the room was full to capacity. Earlier concerts, especially in the Spring term, were less well attended.

The Society has been glad to welcome as guests the Douglas Cameron Orchestra, leader Sylvia Cleaver, conductor Douglas Cameron; Bryan Gipps, who played with his sister Ruth Gipps, in her own violin and piano Sonata, and Harold Lester and Robin Wood (pianists), who partnered Penelope Howard and Tessa Robbins respectively.

Refreshments.

Last December we were obliged to change our catering arrangements, as the firm who had hitherto supplied us, retired from business. We then tried the experiment of serving coffee, cake and biscuits only, and reducing the charge to 1/6. Some members find the lighter refreshments are not so satisfactory, especially when they have not been able to have a meal before the concert; others welcome the change and the reduced price, and on the whole the experiment has earned more praise than blame. Mrs. Bendixson and her helpers deserve our hearty thanks for another year of successful organisation and hard work, especially when everything has to be carried up three flights of stairs to the Council Room.

Ella Ivimey Concerts.

These concerts continue to fill an important place in the activities of the Society. Nine have been held this year and Dorothea Aspinall has worked enthusiastically to make them not only musically worthwhile and helpful to the performers, but also sociable and friendly occasions for us all.

We are deeply grateful to Miss Aspinall and her helper, Mary Elliott, and to all those who welcome us to their studios and drawing rooms.

Auditions.

In order to hear the large number of applicants, Jean Stewart has arranged regular auditions since last Autumn.

The bringing together of artists and the professional members of the Panel, at times convenient to all, has required great ingenuity, and Miss Stewart deserves our thanks for a job well done. These Auditions are important to the Council for programme building, and the Artists appreciate the remarks of the Panel.

Marion Scott Prize.

The Council decided that this year's Competition (for Woodwind players) should be thrown open to non-members, under the age of thirty, and the prize increased to £20.

The Competition took place on July 10th and there were eighteen entries. The Panel of Adjudicators—(Ruth Gipps, Noreen Mason, Evelyn Rothwell, Robert Baker and John Francis) awarded the prize to Gabriele Hay, Oboe. The standard of performance of the first four was very high, and the marking between the first two, very close. Miss Mollie Sands generously gave a second prize of £10 to the runner-up, Janet Eggleden, Clarinet; and Daphne Down, Clarinet, and Lesley Wilson, Bassoon, were very highly commended.

W. W. Cobbett Library.

This is still on loan to the Elder Conservatoire in Adelaide, and is much used and appreciated by Students and Staff. Professor Bishop, visiting London, said they were planning a Festival of British Music, when the Library would be invaluable.

S.W.M. Library.

As this was now seldom, if ever, used, and was rapidly deteriorating, the Council decided it should be disposed of. Members were given the opportunity to acquire what they wanted very cheaply and the rest went to a dealer.

Other Libraries.

Hester Stansfeld Prior and Katharine Eggar, both left their music libaries to the Society, and these too have now been sold.

The sums realised are:—

Stansfeld Prior Library	...	£78
Katharine Eggar Library	...	£60
S.W.M. Library ...	...	£89

Making a total of £227.

Legacy from Miss Katharine Eggar.

Miss Eggar left the Society £100, and it is intended to use part of the money as a prize for a Paper showing original research on some aspect of Music, History, Science or Art.

Future of the Society.

Besides the regular business meetings of the Council we have held some informal meetings to discuss the future policy of the Society at greater leisure.

The Council realises that the Society has reached a turning point in its history as well as in its financial affairs. The status of professional women musicians is now no longer questioned, although there is still some discrimination against women in certain orchestras, an inevitable result of our family and domestic responsibilities. The business side of our professional life is looked after by the Incorporated Society of Musicians and the Musicians' Union. The Society is by no means redundant, but its aims need re-thinking, and re-stating in terms of the present day, and its policy brought into line with modern musical conditions.

It was agreed that the social side is most important and should be further developed; that high standards of performance must be maintained, young performers and composers encouraged, and talent, both executive and creative, fostered by all possible means.

But unless we achieve a better financial position, we can barely survive, far less carry out any schemes for expansion. We must either increase Revenue or decrease Expenditure. It has been suggested that a change of name would be an advantage.

This is being seriously considered by the Council, but no definite steps will be taken without consulting the members.

The Council's Thanks are due—

To Miss Martin, who has worked with her usual loyalty and devotion during the past year.

To Miss Giddings, for her calm, competent handling of the accounts.

To Mr. J. S. Saunders and Mr. B. S. Jaquet for their advice and wise counsel in matters financial and legal.

To the Composers' Committee and all those members and friends who have helped the Society in so many ways, not forgetting the Arts Council, for the use of their premises at St. James' Square.

FINANCE

(Statement by the President, read at the Annual General Meeting)

" You have heard the financial statement from Miss Giddings and that, although we are not actually in the red, we have to exercise the greatest care in the use of our sadly low funds.

There is really so much we could and should do, particularly now when we have the interest and enthusiasm of so many of our younger up-and-coming artists.

This alone is most encouraging and I am sure that you will agree that we must do everything we can, not to let them—or the Society—down.

After much thought and discussion by the members of your Council, it would seem that the most obvious course open, to us, as to so many Societies nowadays, is that the subscriptions should be increased. This should help to provide a substantial enough basic fund to enable our activities to be carried out in the only way that they should—at the highest standard."

(The new rates are printed on page 1 of this Report.)
